Figure 1 illustrates the evolution of a 2D lattice of particles over time. The diagrams are arranged in a 3x4 grid. Each diagram shows a square lattice of points. The top row shows the initial state with a single particle at the center. The second row shows the particle moving to the right. The third row shows the particle moving to the left. The fourth row shows the particle moving to the right again. The fifth row shows the particle moving to the left again. The sixth row shows the particle moving to the right again. The seventh row shows the particle moving to the left again. The eighth row shows the particle moving to the right again. The ninth row shows the particle moving to the left again. The tenth row shows the particle moving to the right again. The eleventh row shows the particle moving to the left again. The twelfth row shows the particle moving to the right again.
